INDEPENDENT PLATFORM ENGINEERING & AI OPERATIONS | 2023–PRESENT

- Designed, built, and installed a recoverable AI-enabled production platform integrating local AI, APIs, MCP integrations, macOS, Debian Linux, cloud services, remote access, automation, observability, CI/CD, security controls, storage, and service recovery.
- Architected distinct compute, network, data, security, automation, AI, observability, and recovery planes across OpenClaw, Ollama, LiteLLM, Docker/Compose, PostgreSQL, Redis, Tailscale, Cloudflare, self-hosted CI runners, and macOS launchd.
- Built a guarded AI control plane that evaluates action risk, executes registered policy-approved operations, records audit evidence, and fails closed when identity or approval controls are unavailable.
- Built and installed an OpenClaw watchdog that monitors local and public health endpoints, applies staged recovery, and uses persistent state, file locking, cooldown protection, and sanitized logs.
- Established preflight, rollback, backup/restore, runtime verification, storage monitoring, soak testing, and evidence-based operational health practices.
